IT IN COURT AGAINST SUFFS

Take Action to Prevent Issue of Proclamation

THE MOVEMENT A SURPRISE

Gov. Scott Calls The North Carolina Legislature To Meet August 10 To Consider Ratification Of The Federal Suffrage Act.

Washington.—Proceedings asking that the legislature of the state be enjoined from issuing any proclamation declaring the suffrage amendment ratified by the state were introduced in the Senate of Columbia State, by Charles S. Fairchild, of New York, president of the American Constitutional League.

Fairchild also seeks to prevent General Fairchild from enacting a bill to call the legislature into session to ratify the suffrage amendment. Just as he had a role on Secretaries Col. Attorney General to show why 12 why the motion should be rejected.

Heads of the proceedings are that the ratification of the suffrage amendment by the West Virginia legislature was illegal because it was ratified by fraud and that the proposal of ratification by the Tennessee legislature would be illegal on the same grounds as the one lacked under the state's constitution on the measure.

12 states have ratified the amendment, and as ratification by 36 is necessary the attack on the measure through the legislature is a surprise to no one here. An attack on the measure of the action of the Tennessee legislature had been expected, but until the legislature actually ratified the amendment by a vote of such a move by the suffrage forces, the organization supporting the amendment have taken no action by more than 36 than the amendment could operate in time to permit the vote in the president on this year. The restraining or by the National Women's Party, in a statement, to indicate that the amendment had been adopted by the various state legislatures in ratifying the suffrage amendment will finally be up to the executive suffrage forces and eventually grasps at the law in through court process to force the suffrage strung tight and the expenditure of more money and time by suffragists for the success of their cause.

Lightning Hits Miner Half-Mile Under Ground.

Clearfield, Pa.—A mine half a mile under ground was badly injured by a bolt of lightning recently.

Abraham Miller, 16, was working on his shovel, which was resting on an iron rail. A bolt of lightning followed the rail into the mine, shattered the shovel, and threw the miner to the ground. Rendered unconscious, Whitfield was badly cut.

The leg has not yet issued any statement with reference to it.

Goodman, the manager of the mine, said that the amendment could not be ratified by the miners in time to permit the vote in the president on this year. The restraining or by the National Women's Party, in a statement, to indicate that the amendment will finally be up to the executive suffrage forces and eventually grasps at the law in through court process to force the suffrage strung tight and the expenditure of more money and time by suffragists for the success of their cause.
